

GETTING STARTED WITH INVISALIGN

One of the easiest and fastest ways to get started in Invisalign is with iTero scanner with an Invisalign certificate dentist.

Invisalign cases that start with an iTero scan have seven times fewer fit issues than those started with traditional impressions. Invisalign treatment plans submitted using iTero scans are typically posted 50% faster than for cases using impression molds. There are ten times fewer rejections of iTero scans than traditional impression molds.

iTero scanners also eliminate the mess and unpleasantness associated with dental impression molds. Patients are more likely to share their "gag-free" impression experience with friends and family member.

Many patients are being given the option of fixing crooked teeth problems with invasive dental procedures when they would better benefit from orthodontics by having Invisalign. As of 2017, many dentists feel more comfortable getting Invisalign started on a patient and doing minor tooth movement than doing veneers. Dentist owe to their patients to offer alternatives that will give them the cosmetic results they want and the dentistry they deserve without destroying their natural teeth.

The simplest cases to start are the ones in which you have good arch development but tooth-sized discrepancies that create in and out malalignments. One way to decide whether to case is easy or not is to look at the posterior bite. If the patient's bite is good and the crowding is only in the front teeth, it is usually easy and fast Invisalign treatment.
